this book explores how multiculturalism should be promoted throughout higher education due to its benefits for students it adopts a strengths based student centred perspective and offers practical illustrations of how multicultural education can instigate students to understand each other and to relate to each other meaningfully with the rise of international students in higher education across the globe it is crucial that institutions promote multicultural education for their wider communities

this book aims to capture the complicated development of korea from monoethnic to multicultural society challenging the narrative of ethnonational continuity in korea through a discursive institutional approach at a time when immigration is changing the face of south korea and an increasingly diverse society becomes empirical fact this doesn't necessarily mean that multiculturalism has been embraced as a normative policy based response to that fact the approach here diverges from existing academic analyses which tend to conclude that core institutions defining korea's immigration and nationality regimes and which crucially also reflect a basic and hitherto unyielding commitment to racial and ethnic homogeneity will remain largely unaffected by increasing diversity here this title underscores the critical importance of discursive agency as a necessary corrective to still dominant power and interest based arguments in addition discursive agents are found to play a central role in communicating promoting and helping to instill the ideas that create a basis for change on the road to remaking korean society the road to multiculturalism in south korea will be of interest to students and scholars of asian studies immigration and migration studies race and ethnic studies as well as comparative politics broadly this best selling anthology is a unique introduction to feminism and women's studies it presents a multidisciplinary collection of academic essays and analyses personal narratives and fiction and poetry about women's lives the selections illustrate the variety of women's experiences primarily in the united states considering both commonalities and differences among women and appreciating women's diverse approaches to living and fostering change this book challenges the narrative of northern england as a failed space of multiculturalism drawing on a historically contextualised discussion of ethnic relations to argue that multiculturalism has been more successful and locally situated than these assumptions allow the authors examine the interplay between race space and place to analyse how profound economic change the evolving nature of the state individual racism and the local creation and enactment of multiculturalist policies have all contributed to shaping the trajectory of ethnic faith identities and inter community relations at a local level in doing so the book analyses both change and continuity in discussion of and national local state policy towards ethnic relations particularly around the supposed segregation integration dichotomy and the ways in which racialised events are perceived and identities are created and reflected in state policy operations drawing on the authors long involvement in empirical research policy and practice around ethnicity race and racism in the northern england they effectively support critical and situated analysis of controversial racialised issues and set these geographically specific findings in the context of wider international experiences of and tensions around growing ethnic diversity in the context of profound economic and social changes immigrants often face considerable challenges when it comes to preserving their cultural and religious teachings d mitra barua argues that the sri lankan buddhist community in toronto has maintained its coherence and integrity not despite but because of the need for cultural adaptations drawing on survey data over fifty in depth interviews with temple monks educators parents and children and fieldwork conducted in toronto and colombo sri lanka seeding buddhism with multiculturalism examines how a religious tradition is transmitted from one generation to the next in a new cultural setting and what happens during that process of transmission barua demonstrates that buddhists have passed on buddhist beliefs attitudes and practices to their canadian born youth who in turn have constructed their own distinct buddhist identity influenced by the individualistic egalitarian and secular cultural ambience in toronto through creative fieldwork and translocal analysis taking into account migrants geographical cultural and familial ties to multiple locales this book further explains that pre migration experiences often shape and determine the success or failure of intergenerational transmission an ethnographic religious study with an uncommon depth of perspective seeding buddhism with multiculturalism shows that first and second generation sri lankan buddhists in toronto are successfully practising theravāda buddhism within a canadian context multiculturalism still matters and is even more important after 7 7 than it was before the political discourse and rhetoric of integration sits uncomfortably alongside both multicultural realities e g the civil disturbances in birmingham england october 2005 paris france november 2005 and sydney australia december 2005 and social scientific notions of where multiculturalism positions itself domestically and internationally this edited collection is intended to be a major contribution to studies of multiculturalism examining the historical background and anthropological context alongside more contemporary applied social policy perspectives in this volume we argue that a multicultural perspective is as relevant and important both socially and politically in a post 7 7 world within a post 7 7 context there are contributors within this edited collection who argue for both integrationist and multicultural approaches the volume acknowledges both concepts and encourages the reader to increase understandings of both arguments and position her himself within the debates choice award 2022 outstanding academic title the multiculturalization of canada has catapulted it into the front ranks of countries in advancing a principled diversity governance fifty years after the inception of a multicultural governance model that seemingly works and is relatively popular canada remains one of the few countries in the world to believe in multiculturalism yet the irony is inescapable notwithstanding its lofty status as a canadian icon and an aspirational ideal an official multiculturalism remains misunderstood both in canada and abroad in terms of what it means how it works and for whom and why it endures if anything as the book explains the idea of multiculturalism remains shrouded in the conceptual fog of a riddle wrapped in a mystery inside an enigma an interplay of polite fictions that mask inconvenient truths puts the onus on deconstructing canadian multiculturalism by conceptualizing strengths including a probe into why multiculturalism ostensibly works in canada but rarely elsewhere analyzing weaknesses critically assessing its worth and envisioning its future in responding to the new realities and demands of a post multicultural world that canada s multiculturalism remains a work in progress albeit one with innovative possibilities provides a fitting tribute the three volume encyclopedia of giftedness creativity and talent presents state of the art research and ready to use facts from the fields of education psychology sociology and the arts this book provides students and practitioners with a comprehensive overview of the rules and principles associated with ethical advertising practices with extensive research and a variety of case studies and expert opinions it discusses why advertising ethics is important both to the consumer and the professional the author presents the rules of ethical conduct recommended by the institute for advertising ethics and demonstrates how these are applied in practice examining why ethics is important what the ethical dilemmas the industry faces are and how to motivate better practices among professionals the book uses real life stories of native advertising marketing to children and diversity in advertising to show how professionals can be inspired to do the right thing for consumers and their companies readers will learn how they can solve ethical dilemmas to their personal satisfaction in the competitive work environment this balanced perspective to the ethical issues that arise in the advertising industry is sure to resonate with students of advertising and marketing
